The Universe's Inbox

Voyager arrives in Junk Mail with a carefully placed advert about all the best on Earth.
An invite to the galaxy catch-up pops in around two minutes before it starts.
Black hole spam may contain viruses and signals from Canopus have interfered with the Wi-Fi again.
4.5 billion emails from Earth –
another mouthy space speck.
Supernovae flicker the signal once more.
Nebulae send out commercials about star day care.
