

ABOUT US

Dear Human Being

When you meet a hazy morning,
On a sweet mellow beach,
Sand clings to your fingers,
As gritty hands reach,
When you pass a park,
On a coarse autumn's day,
Leaves wander after you,
Chasing your feet to stay,
When you place the paintbrush,
On an undecided page,
Colours swirl after your touch,
Until a vibrant swirling stage,
All the world roots for you,
Dear human being,
Life's your ally for the ride,
Enjoy the sight seeing,
Therefore don't tell me,
That there's nil for you to do,
If you watch the racing spin,
The world turns for you.

Kaila Patterson, Winner in the About Us poetry competition